

Confidentiality / Recipe NDA

FMCG Brands & Distribution

Document type: Contract / agreement · Generated 14 Oct 2026

This guide explains what the tool produces, how to use the output, and what to watch for. The actual output (draft/report) is generated on the tool page.

Background

Drafts a confidentiality agreement/NDA with each term separate — parties and purpose, definition of confidential information (recipe/formula/supplier list), obligations, exclusions, duration and remedies — so you protect trade secrets when sharing with co-packers, vendors or staff. Use it before sharing sensitive information. For a co-packer use the Co-Packing / Contract Manufacturing Agreement.

Purpose of this tool & output

Protect recipes, formulas and trade secrets

How the output is used

Use the draft to protect recipes, formulas and trade secrets — a confidentiality NDA before you share with a co-packer, supplier or partner.

Who receives it

The agreement is between the disclosing and receiving parties; each keeps a signed copy.

Fees & charges

Usually executed on nominal stamp paper per your state; no heavy stamp duty for an NDA.

Who should vet it

A lawyer, to make the confidentiality scope, duration and remedies enforceable before you disclose.

Important cautions

AI-generated draft; for a valuable recipe, treat it as a perpetual trade secret and have a lawyer review.
