

BOCW Construction-Worker Registration & Benefit Claim

Document type: Licence / statutory filing · Generated 15 Oct 2026

This guide explains what the tool produces, how to use the output, and what to watch for. The actual output (draft/report) is generated on the tool page.

Background

Prepares a construction worker registration under the state Building and Other Construction Workers (BOCW) welfare board, and the benefit claims the board offers — education, marriage, maternity, accident or disability, health, tool and pension assistance — with the employment or work proof and the document set, so the worker gets what the cess-funded board owes.

Purpose of this tool & output

Register a construction worker under the BOCW welfare board and claim the education, marriage, maternity, accident or pension benefits

How the output is used

Use the registration and the benefit claim (education, marriage, maternity, accident/disability, health, tool, pension) with the work proof and the document set to register the worker with the state BOCW board and claim what the cess-funded board owes.

Who receives it

The state Building and Other Construction Workers (BOCW) Welfare Board; the benefit is credited/disbursed to the registered worker.

How to submit / file it

Apply at the BOCW board (online or through the labour office/facilitation centre) with the age and 90-days-work proof, the identity and bank details for registration; then file the specific benefit claim with its supporting documents.

Fees & charges

A nominal registration fee and a small periodic contribution apply; the benefits themselves are paid by the board from the construction cess.

Who should vet it

A labour facilitator or the union/board help-desk — to confirm the eligibility, the work proof and the correct benefit and its documents.

Important cautions

Registration needs proof of 90 days of construction work in the year and must be kept active by the contribution; each benefit has its own eligibility and document rule. Verify the current state board scheme and keep the registration live.
