

Caste / Income / Domicile / EWS / Non-Creamy-Layer Certificate Assembly

Document type: Licence / statutory filing · Generated 27 Aug 2026

This guide explains what the tool produces, how to use the output, and what to watch for. The actual output (draft/report) is generated on the tool page.

Background

Assembles the application for a revenue certificate — caste/community, income, domicile/residence, EWS, or non-creamy-layer — with the exact income and residence evidence each one needs, and drafts the correction or representation for the complex or rejected cases (mismatched records, migration, income-proof gaps) that survive the online counter.

Purpose of this tool & output

Assemble a caste, income, domicile, EWS or non-creamy-layer certificate application — the right evidence, and a fix for a rejected case

How the output is used

Use the assembled application, with the exact income and residence evidence the certificate needs, to apply at the tehsil/SDM or the online portal, and use the correction/representation for a mismatched, migrated or rejected case.

Who receives it

The Tehsildar/SDM/Revenue authority (or the online e-district portal) that issues the caste, income, domicile, EWS or non-creamy-layer certificate.

How to submit / file it

Apply at the tehsil/SDM or on the e-district portal with the identity, the residence proof, the income proof (and the parental/caste records for caste/NCL); the certificate issues after verification by the revenue staff.

Fees & charges

A nominal government fee (often free or minimal) applies; a facilitation charge may apply if a CSC/agent is used.

Who should vet it

No professional is usually needed — the certificate is issued by the tehsil/SDM after verification; a lawyer helps only for a contested or repeatedly rejected case.

Important cautions

Each certificate has its own income ceiling, validity and evidence rule (EWS and non-creamy-layer differ), and a mismatch in records or a migration case gets rejected at the counter; use the correct income year and residence proof. Verify the current criteria for your state.
