Background

Prepares a new water-supply or sewerage connection application for a residential, commercial or industrial property — sizing the connection to the demand, computing the connection and deposit charges, and assembling the ownership and plumbing documents for the water board or municipal body.

Purpose of this tool & output

Prepare a new water or sewerage connection application for a property, with the load basis, charges and document set

How the output is used

Use the connection sizing, the computed connection/deposit charges and the ownership/plumbing document set to apply for a new water-supply or sewerage connection for the property with the water board or municipal body.

Who receives it

The water board / municipal water-supply and sewerage department (Jal Board / Jal Nigam / municipal body) that sanctions the connection.

How to submit / file it

Apply on the water-board/municipal portal with the ownership proof, the plumbing/site plan, the demand/load basis and the identity; pay the connection and deposit charges; the connection is given after inspection.

Fees & charges

The connection charge, the road-cutting/restoration charge and the security deposit are set by the water board on the connection size and property type; a plumber/consultant fee.

Who should vet it

A licensed plumber / the water-board-empanelled agency — to size the connection, prepare the plumbing plan, and get the inspection cleared.

Important cautions

The connection must be sized to the demand and taken legally — an unauthorised connection invites disconnection and a penalty; the charges and the road-cutting NOC vary by city. Verify the current water-board schedule and the ownership requirement.
